

RADON TEST NON-INTERFERENCE AGREEMENT

Achieving accurate radon results is not a difficult task. Just follow these guidelines.

These are the conditions set forth by the EPA and must be met for the test results to be valid.

Closed House Conditions:

Closed house means that all entry doors to the house and all windows are to remain closed for the duration of the test. Doors can be opened only for entering or leaving and must be closed immediately behind you.

The house must be closed up at least 12 hours prior to conducting the radon test and for the duration of the test. (Minimum of 48 hours) If the house was not closed up 12 hours prior to setting the devices, then the test must be conducted an additional 24 hours. If these conditions can not be met, inform the Radon Technician before the radon devices are deployed.

I agree to the following conditions:

I agree to keep all doors and windows closed for the duration of the test. I understand that doors can be opened only for the time it takes to enter or leave the house. I understand that tamper proof seals may be installed on doors and windows to ensure that close house conditions were maintained. These seals may or may not be visible.

I will not operate swamp coolers or any device that draws in outside air.

I agree to not disturb the radon testing devices in any way. This is illegal in some States.

If any of these conditions are not kept, the radon test will be invalid. The test will need to be conducted again at the signee's expense.

Allowable

You may run the A/C unit as long as it only circulates inside air

You may run furnace
